TOOK A BRICK WALL

ALLEGATION IN SUIT ON TRIAL IN CIRCUIT COURT MONDAY.

OSCAR COUSSINS PAROLED

No Damages for Dougherty—St. Patrick's School Won Its Case and Got Verdict for $789.19.

The suit of George W. Crossan vs. James Vert of Wilcox was being tried Monday in circuit court before a jury, the attorneys for the plaintiff being Ellis G. Cook and W. H. Crawford, and for the defendant, Cook, Cummins & Dawson. The suit is for $450, and it is claimed by the plaintiff that a brick wall and basement and foundation walls made of brick were built, costing $150, and that the defendant, without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiff, removed and carried away the wall without any rights.

The case was given to the jury late Monday afternoon.

Oscar Cousins, 18 years old, pleaded guilty in circuit court Monday morning to raising a check from $2 to $5, and was sentenced to three years in the reform school. He was, however, paroled on condition that a bond of $500 be given; that he report at each term of court for two years and give a strict account of himself, and that he will not drink, play cards for money or violate any of the laws. Cousins is from Hopkins.

The jury in the case of C. C. Dougherty vs. A. J. Holt for $5,000 damages came in late Saturday evening and gave a verdict, signed by nine of the jury for the defendant.

The case of E. A. Johnson vs. Walter P. Mann for damages was dismissed for want of prosecution.

In the case of the St. Patrick's Catholic school of this city vs. Riggs & Ellsberry et al., action on bond, a jury was waived and the evidence was presented to court and judgment was given for the plaintiff for $789.19.

Ira Gray vs. J. W. New, defendant filed motion for a new trial.

Lawrence F. Gowney vs. the Wabash, the plaintiff filed motion for a new trial.

In the naturalization of Ulrich Geisler, owing to defect in the application for citizenship, it was dismissed.

In the partition suit of Robert E. Snodgrass vs. Sarah Jane Morgan et al., a decree was given the plaintiff.

THEIR SON AND SON-IN-LAW ILL.

Vern Alderman in Virginia and A. Bingham in Oklahoma.

Judge and Mrs. I. K. Alderman received a telegram Saturday afternoon from Charlottesville, Va., stating their son, Vern Alderman, was very sick in a hospital there and would have to undergo a surgical operation.

Saturday morning Judge and Mrs. Alderman received a letter from their daughter, Mrs. Alvin Bingham of Cordell, Okla., telling of her husband's illness. Mr. Bingham was taken ill with grip about three weeks ago, and became better, but a serious trouble of the heart has since developed, and he was in a serious condition this week.

It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Bingham lost their little girl since going to Oklahoma a year ago, while his brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bingham, who recently located at Greenfield, Ia., lost three of their children after going to Cordell, Okla., from this county.

WARCALLSHIMBACK

JOE RIZZI OF HOPKINS MUST RETURN TO ITALY.

GIVEN 60 DAYS TO REPORT

His Family is Still in Italy and He Will Have to Obey Call or Be Subject to Arrest.

The war Italy is waging against Turkey means more to Joe Rizzi, who is a carver for the Missouri and Iowa Granite company of Hopkins than it does to many residents of the United States. Rizzi has just received official notice from his native country to return to Italy and enlist in its war against Turkey. He is given sixty days to report for duty, and as the trip can be made in fifteen days, he will remain here for perhaps a month yet in the hope that the war will end by that time, for, in which event, he will not be compelled to make the trip. Even if he should refuse to answer the summons he would not be molested so long as he remains away from Italy, but should he return to his native land he would be promptly arrested and sent to jail. His family still lives in Italy, and he has made several trips to that country since first coming to the United States. His fare will be paid to Italy when he goes to enlist, but in the event that he returns to the United States after being discharged he will be compelled to bear his own expenses. Rizzi is an Italian of considerable intelligence and is skilled as a carver in marble, having worked on some of the most notable structures in this country, among them being the five-million dollar mansion of United States Senator Clark in New York City.

NORMALS DEFEATED BEDFORD.

Basket Ball Team Won Game by Score of 46 to 27.

Coach Moore's Normal basket ball warriors annexed their third victory of the season in as many games, Saturday night, when they defeated the Bedford, Ia., high school quintet at the Bedford city hall by a score of 46 to 27. The Normals out-classed their opponents and would doubtless have won by a more decisive score if the game had been played on a larger floor. The locals are used to playing on a near regulation court, and the small Bedford court was somewhat of a handicap. The Normals secured a comfortable lead in the first half, but in the second half the high school lads took a brace and played a much closer game. The locals scored 18 field goals. H. Seymour and Mitchell got 6 each, Perrin 5 and V. Seymour 1. V. Seymour, who took McClintock's place at guard, demonstrated that he was a clever understudy for his opponent did not get a semblance of a goal. McGrew also played a good game, but he guarded a more skillful opponent. Captain Perrin improved somewhat in his free throwing, ten goals out of fifteen chances being his record for Saturday night. The Normals lined up as follows: H. Seymour and Perrin, forwards; Mitchell, center, McGrew and V. Seymour, guards. S. E. Miller and Taylor were the substitutes.

With Vandersloot and Bent, both former high school stars, starting in school at the winter quarter, which begins December 4, together with the present team, Coach Moore anticipates a very successful basket ball season.

Went to Rochester.

Samuel Masters of South Market street, who has been very ill for the past six weeks, left Monday forenoon for Rochester, Minn., to consult the physicians at Mayo hospital in regard to his case. Mr. Masters was accompanied by Mrs. Masters and his brother, George Masters.

A SERVICE OF SONG

A SPECIAL THANKSGIVING PROGRAM RENDERED BY CHOIR.

LADIES' QUARTET SANG

Solo Parts by Messrs. Perrin and Mutz and Miss Corwin—Quartet, Misses Clark, Kemp, Wray, Clayton.

A Thanksgiving music service was given at the First M. E. church Sunday night under the direction of Prof. P. O. Landon. One person who attended the service, in writing of it, said:

"Of the many inspiring church services, held regularly in the M. E. church each Lord's day, none could be more uplifting to the spirit than was the Thanksgiving song service of Sunday evening. To say the program was beautiful would be to offer but scant praise for the magnificent feast of song."

The music was sung by the M. E. church choir, assisted by the Conservatory quartet and others, under the directorship of Prof. P. O. Landon. Solo parts were carried by Messrs. Perrin and Mutz and Miss Mae Corwin. The number given by the ladies' quartet composed of Misses Clark, Kemp, Wray and Clayton was very pleasing, their voices blending in harmony as appealing as it was beautiful.

"A dominant note of reverent religious feeling pervaded the entire service, which was but intensified by the few remarks by Rev. J. S. Ford, suggesting that true thankfulness to the Lord for his many mercies could, perhaps, best be shown by trying to make some being happier on Thanksgiving day other than ourselves."

The closing number was a splendidly rendered anthem of thanks and praise by the entire chorus. Such services are much appreciated by all who hear them, and especially by the music loving public.

"Much credit is due Prof. Landon for the high standard maintained in the musical numbers produced by the M. E. church choir, as well as to the faithful, painstaking co-operation of the choir working under his directorship. The program was as follows:

"Hear Me, O Lord"..... Parks
"I Am Alpha and Omega"..... Stanner
"Unfold, Ye Portals," from "The Redemption"..... Gounod
Hail, Prince of Light"..... Abbott

A quartet of ladies from the choir Miss Maude Clark, Miss LaRue Kemp, Miss Nellie Wray and Miss Ada Clayton, sang "The Winds Are Hushed," by Simpson.

BURIAL WAS MONDAY MORNING.

Nineteen-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Busby Died Saturday Afternoon.

Charles Busby, the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Busby, living ten miles south of Maryville, died Saturday afternoon after a two years' illness of diabetes. The funeral services were held at St. Mary's Catholic church Monday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Father Anselm. The young man is survived by his parents and one young brother and four sisters, John Busby and Miss Chloe Busby, a teacher; Miss Esther Busby, a student at St. Joseph's academy at Clyde, and Florence and Dorothy at home. This is the third son Mr. and Mrs. Busby have lost. They have the sympathy of many friends.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses to us during our sorrow over the loss of our beloved son and brother, Charles Busby. May God bless you all, as I am prayer.—Elihu Busby and Family.

MINK LEAGUE MEETING.

Held Recently at Nebraska City to Check Up Year's Business.

The Mink League directors met recently at Nebraska City, Neb., to check up the year's work. Humboldt was given a permanent franchise. It is very doubtful if Shenandoah will make an effort to remain in the league. With the addition of the new Nebraska town, the expenses for the home club would be very materially increased, and which, added to the yearly deficit already incurred with the former lower expense, would probably be more than Shenandoah would care to afford.—Shenandoah World.

WM. R. M'KEE DEAD

PROMINENT FARMER AND STOCK RAISER DIED OF CANCER.

FATHER OF 20 CHILDREN

Twice Married and is Survived by Widow and Number of Descendants.

William Reed McKee, for many years a prominent farmer, stockman and auctioneer of Nodaway county, died at his home, seven miles north-east of Maryville, Sunday afternoon. The funeral arrangements have not been made. Mr. McKee had been sick of cancer of the stomach for the past six months and was a great sufferer.

Mr. McKee had been a resident of Nodaway county since the fall of 1871. He was born in Holmes county, O., April 12, 1839, and lived in that county until eighteen years of age, when he moved with his parents to Pike county, O., and lived there twenty years. When he was 19 years of age he began improving a farm of his own in Ohio, and has given his attention to agricultural pursuits ever since. In the fall of 1871 he came to Missouri and settled on a farm seven miles south of Maryville, and lived on that place a few years, when he moved to the Pickering vicinity.

He has always been one of the progressive and intelligent farmers of Nodaway county. Mr. McKee was twice married. His first marriage was to Miss Cynthia Roberts, a native of Pike county, Ohio, on August 6, 1857. Seven children were born to them, one dying in infancy. The living children are Mrs. Ira Loch of Dover, Okla.; Mrs. Joseph Everhart, living near Pickering; Mrs. Zane Loch, near Pickering; F. H. McKee, Santa Rosa, Cal. and N. O. McKee of Pascho, Wash. Mrs. McKee's death occurred many years ago.

His second marriage was to Miss Mollie Jones of near Pickering. Thirteen children were born to them, one of whom is dead. The living children are: Mrs. Pearl Strong of Parnell; Mrs. Loele Loch and Mrs. Alex Swaney of Pickering, Roy McKee, Miss Lena McKee, Charles, Wallace, Leland, Fay, Fern, Claud and Raymond McKee at home, who survive with the mother.

Mr. McKee had been a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church for many years. He was a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a devoted husband and father.

OLD WOOD IN VIOLIN.

Stanberry Man Makes Musical Instrument From Spruce and Maple.

A hand-made violin fashioned from wood more than 125 years old, has been completed by Dr. G. L. Coffey of Stanberry, says the St. Joseph News-Press. An expert has examined the instrument and made Dr. Coffey an offer of several thousand dollars for it, but this was refused.

The wood, which is of spruce and maple, was procured from the ruins of an old house that stood near Albany, this county, known as the Hundley building and which was said to have been about ninety years old. Dr. Coffey procured the wood directly from Professor Rose of Albany, who has had it in his possession more than thirty-five years.

TARKIO WANTS IT

OMAHA-KANSAS CITY HIGHWAY DESIRED BY ATCHISON CO. TOWN.

ASK MARYVILLE'S HELP

Think They Have a Better Route Than the One Through Clarinda—Delegation Here.

A party of Tarkio autoists, headed by Mayor H. M. Hall and W. F. Rankin of that place, came in their automobiles to Maryville Monday afternoon to confer with the board of directors of the Commercial club and with the Automobile club in regard to having the proposed Omaha-Kansas City highway to come by way of Tarkio instead of going by Clarinda, Ia. The Omaha-Kansas City highway, as had been mapped out, goes from Omaha to Shenandoah, then to Clarinda, then to Burlington Junction and on to Maryville, and from this place to St. Joseph over the Saints Highway.

The Tarkio autoists want the help and aid of the Maryville club to have the route changed so as to take in Tarkio. The trail then would be from Shenandoah to Tarkio, and then to Burlington Junction and Maryville. They are meeting with the Commercial club directors and Automobile club (this afternoon in the Commercial club rooms, and it is probable that some action will be taken by the club to have Tarkio on the proposed route.

In the Tarkio delegation were Mayor Hall, W. F. Rankin, John A. Rankin, J. D. Rankin, Blaine Shaum, Frank Travis, W. L. Kendall, Glenn Kendall, W. F. Marshall, H. E. Miller and Harry Miller.

WAS PASTOR HERE

REV. O. W. LAWRENCE, WHO DIED IN WASHINGTON.

WAS HERE FOR FIVE YEARS

This Was His First Pastorate, and Many Maryville Friends Will Sorrow at News.

Rev. O. W. Lawrence, pastor of the First Christian church of Maryville for five years from 1898 to 1903, died Saturday evening in North Yakima, Wash., from pneumonia fever. Rev. Lawrence, while on his way from Decatur, Ill., to North Yakima a month ago, had caught a cold, which later developed in pneumonia fever.

Rev. Lawrence was called to the Christian church at North Yakima, Wash., in October, and left Decatur, Ill., where he had been pastor of the Christian church there for five years. He took charge of the pastorate at North Yakima on November 1.

Word of Rev. Lawrence's death was received in Maryville from Rev. C. M. Chilton of St. Joseph, a former pastor of the church here. No announcement was made as to the funeral, other than that he would be buried at Payson, Ill.

Rev. Lawrence was born near Payson, Adams county, Ill., on March 12, 1874. He attended Drake university for five years, and after graduation his first work as a minister was in Maryville, where he accepted the pastorate of the Christian church and continued in charge until 1903, when he went to Rock Island, Ill. On May 16, 1899, he was married to a daughter of Chancellor W. B. Craig of Drake university. His wife and four children survive.

It is doubtful whether there was a more popular pastor in Maryville than Rev. Lawrence. He was as popular outside of his church as he was in it. The church had a wonderful growth under his pastorate. Many friends in Maryville are sorry to hear of his death, and extend their sympathies to his wife and children in their deep bereavement.

HIS PLOW 100 YEARS OLD.

Gentry County Man Raises Good Crop With Ancient Implements.

With a plow made 100 years ago, hammered by hand from scrap steel, James Murphy of Gentry, Mo., this year cultivated thirty acres of corn. In addition he used a single line in guiding his horse through the corn rows, employing the methods in vogue half a century ago. He raised a good crop.

Murphy is 72 years old. He is a hermit and every day during the plowing season he drove two miles to his field, cooked his own meals and did his own housework.

It is no easy task for a man to tend thirty acres with more modern implements. With a single shovel plow it was necessary for Murphy to make three trips between each row of corn.

CERTAINLY HAS A RECORD.

Young Man Husked 762 Bushels of Corn in Six and a Half Days.

Some of the best corn husking that has been reported this fall has been done by Nick Wagner, on the farm of
S. A. McClurg, north of Maryville. Mr.
Wagner, in six and a half days, husked 762 bushels, or an average of 117½ bushels a day. The highest number of bushels husked in any one day was 135, and the next highest was 125 bushels. The corn made 70 bushels to the acre on the McClurg farm.

If any one has this record beaten we would like to hear about it.

STALE PHRASES ARE NEEDED

Writer Who Expresses a Powerful Emotion Must Say What Has Been Said Countless Times.

Our dramatic critic, in his review of Sardou's play "Above Suspicion," said of one of the characters that "his lips were sealed," and remarked that such phrases necessarily accompany such plays. They do, indeed, and the use of them makes one understand the emotional quality of such plays better than the most elaborate analysis of them.

There are hundreds of phrases like this, containing metaphors both violent and stale, which are only used seriously by writers who snatch at the easiest means of expressing an emotion which they do not feel. For if a writer has a real emotion of his own to express he will either use a metaphor suggested to him by that particular emotion or none at all. This is a matter of instinct, not of literary art; for a fresh emotion will not be satisfied with stale phrases but will feel itself misrepresented by them.
That is one reason why, when powerfully moved, we are often so inarticulate. We feel that commonplaces will not serve our turn, but we have nothing to put in their place. The writer's task is to be neither inarticulate nor commonplace. He must not be artless, nor must he give us bad art for good. If he has a new idea to express he is not tempted by stale phrases. For they are associated with emotions rather than with thoughts, since emotions are not discoveries.
Like new ideas, and when expressed in literature are valued, not for their novelty, but for the power with which they are expressed. Thus, a writer who expresses a new idea says what has never been said before, but a writer who wishes to express a powerful emotion has to say what has probably been said a thousand times,
and by bad writers as well as good.
These bad writers have burdened our memory with metaphors, some of them lifeless from the first, some killed by constant repetition, or in appropriate use; and their metaphors stay in our minds because they have been so often repeated. The good writer's mind is often infested with them, so that, before he can find the phrase he wants, he must reject half a dozen that he does not want. This is the penalty that he has to pay for living at a time when literature is old and language sophisticated. — London Times.

MAY CORNER COCOA CROP

Brazil Is Much Pleased With Its Success in Raising Price of Coffee.

Encouraged by the success it has achieved in controlling the coffee crop of the republic and forcing Americans to pay a high price the Brazilian government is now planning to enter into a combination with Portugal and Ecuador to corner the cocoa crop and manipulate prices at will.

These three countries produce more than half of the world's output of cocoa, and Jose Marcellino, a Brazilian who formerly served in the senate of that country, is the father of the plan to whoop up the prices of cocoa the world over.

A large London banking house is reported to have offered $10,000,000 to the promoters of the valorization plan in case the three governments interested will enter into a satisfactory agreement. Valorization of coffee by the government of Brazil has been very successful. The government has financed the crops and by lending money to growers has been able to prevent the sale of coffee, except at prices which were satisfactory to the growers.

A few years ago, when the United States took the duty of five cents a pound off coffee, Brazil repaid this country by placing an export duty of the same amount on coffee. In repayment for this greedy act it has frequently been argued that the United States should again tax Brazilian coffee and many economists insist that the imposition of a duty on coffee would upset the Brazilian valorization plan without increasing the price of coffee to the American consumer.

Cocoa is a much more difficult crop than coffee to control, because of the perishable nature of the cocoa beans.
When kept for any length of time they become wormy and are worthless.

MOST VALUABLE OF GARDENS

It Is Located Inside the Bank of England and Was Once a Graveyard.

"As safe as the Bank of England," has become almost a proverb. But recent events have shown that the bank is not quite as safe in its foundations as was generally supposed. One or two great cracks have suddenly appeared, which necessitates the help of the builder.

There are many curious things about the bank, but among them how many know that it possesses a respectable garden? It is to be found just inside the Threadneedle street entrance, on the left hand side.

This old-fashioned garden has a fountain in the center, graveled paths and a couple of trees, the whole forming a quadrangle with the bank building running all round.

Its history is a curious one. In reality this garden is the churchyard of the vanished church of St. Christopher-le-Stock, which used to stand where the Mansion house now is.

One reason why the church was pulled down was because its tower completely overlooked the bank, and it was feared that it would be a danger to the "Old Lady" if the church was occupied by rioters.

As the bank occupies the site of the entire parish of Christopher-le-Stock, it is said that any freeman of the city can claim admission to the old garden. But, as a matter of fact, any one who cares to see it may do so during business hours, and it is well worth a visit, if only for the fact that it is the most valuable garden in the world!—Stray Stories.

How Women Take Criticism.

In the Life of John Oliver Hoobes, edited by her father, John Morgan Richards, there is a slashing arraignment of the literary woman in her attitude toward those who criticize her work. It is from the pen of Moberly
Bell, the famous editor of the London Times. Moberly Bell and Mrs.
Craigie were personal friends, and the latter wrote protesting against the treatment that the Flute of Pan had received at the hands of the Times reviewers. In response the editor wrote in part: "There is one thing and only one thing that the omnipotent has absolutely failed to create. He has made good women, bad women, clever women, silly women, selfish women and heroines of self-sacrifice, but he had never yet made a woman who could stand—I will not say adverse criticism, but—one note of deviation from absolute and unqualified praise of any of her literary efforts.
This is not in blame of anyone—unless the Creator!—It is a law as certain as the law of gravitation, and there is and has never been any exception to it from Deborah to George Eliot, and even later (the assumption of a masculine name cannot alter the fact), there is a unanimity of proof."
Bookman.

The Mosquito Still Here.

Along in the early springtime—about the time when the frogs come out of the mud and tune up for the concert—we organize a mosquito-ex-terminating crusade here in Baltimore, and we proceed, hypothetically, to exterminate the pests with energy and enthusiasm. By August we have forgotten all about the mosquito warfare, and September always brings the swarms. The spring of the year is the right time to start the war on the mosquito, just as it is the proper time for inaugurating the fly-exterminating crusade. But in either case the warfare must be a matter of eternal vigilance.—Baltimore American.

DIED IN THEIR HOUSE OF SAND

Three Children Killed and Two Injured While Playing.

BOY'S KICK CAUSES AVALANCHE

Girl Saves Herself and Two Injured Playmates by Prompt and Heroic Work—Her Own Brother Smothered.

Kansas City, Kan., Nov. 27.—Eight children went to play in a bank of sand here and dug a cave back about 20 feet. Then as they contemplated their work from the inside a boy's contemptuous kick shook the sand pit. The 14-foot bank above them fell in, three of the children were killed and two were injured severely.

The dead are: Ethel Hutchinson, 11 years old, Flossie Hutchinson, 14 and Roscoe Sparks, 9.

Lydia Hutchinson, 16 years old, sister of the two girls killed and Harold Hutchings, 10 years old, were seriously injured.

By the efforts of Lizzie Sparks, 16 years old, the two injured children escaped death. She saved their lives and her own, not knowing that her brother Roscoe, 9 years old, also had been buried. Besides the three dead and the two injured there were in the party Willie McGowan, 8 years old, Lizzie Sparks, and Fennie Hutchinson, 18 years old, who had gone to the pit to watch her sisters and the others play.

After the children had dug back about 20 feet Willie McGowan exclaimed: "This isn't nearly as nice as the cave I dug down here a little ways."

As he spoke he kicked the side of the cave contemptuously. Before the children could take warning the avalanche of sand came down upon them.

Lizzie Sparks was in the middle of the cave. She quickly realized what was happening and fought to keep her feet. She succeeded and the sand only reached her waist.

The girl patiently went to work scooping the sand away from herself with her hands and then, crawling over Fennie Hutchinson and Willie McGowan, obtained a shovel at the mouth of the cave and quickly dug the sand off Lydia Hutchinson and Harold Hutchings. When they were free, she dragged them, almost suffocated, to the entrance of the cave and worked with them until they had recovered their breath. Then she freed Fennie Hutchinson and Willie McGowan from the sand. Together the elder sister and the McGowan boy and Lizzie Sparks went back into the cave and dug the sand off the bodies of Ethel and Flossie Hutchinson. Then Lizzie Sparks ran to the home of Isaac Engel, near the sand pit, and told him of the accident. He called an undertaker and physician.

TWO TRAINS OF ROAD BOOSTERS

Osage City, Kan., to be Meeting Place for Crowds From Lawrence and Olathe.

Topeka, Nov. 27.—Two special trains loaded with good roads boosters will meet in Osage City next Friday to discuss the building of the Pan-American highway from Osage City west to Great Bend. One train will start from Lawrence and go through Topeka, picking up 100 Topeka business men and good roads advocates and a band. The train will start from Lawrence with 50 men. Another train will start from Olathe and will carry Senator George H. Hodges and 50 others and pick up 50 more at Ottawa and a few at all the intermediate points.

There is a rock road from Kansas City to Olathe and improved dirt roads for practically every mile to Osage City. Only a little work near Quenemo in grading around Rattlesnake Hill is to be done to make the road a first class dirt boulevard from Olathe to Osage City. But the Topeka and Lawrence people also want this road, and they are going to Osage City to try to get help in road building along the Kaw Valley to Topeka and thence south to Osage City, where it would join with the already completed roadway and then extend westward.

South Dakota Teachers Meet.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 27.—Governor Vessey and Mayor Stephens this afternoon extended a warm welcome to the members of the South Dakota Educational association, who met in annual convention in the Auditorium. Superintendent Jonas Leyman, of Yankton, responded, and then President C. E. Swanson delivered his address. This evening the Beadle statue will be unveiled at the state house, the address being delivered by Prof. George M. Smith, of Vermillion. The convention will continue through Wednesday.

Fire at Roxbury.

Salina, Kan., Nov. 27.—Fire destroyed the Laloupe & Maddox hardware store at Roxbury. The loss on the frame building was $1,800 and on the stock $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

MURDERED AND CONFESSED

WEALTHY ITALIAN KILLS WIFE AND PARAMOUR.

Hiding in a Church Basement, Music of Morning Mass Leads Him to Tell of Crime.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 27.—Tortured by the mental picture of his headless wife and her paramour, whom he slew together, Pasquale Marchesi, 27 years old, a merchant, went to a priest and confessed the crime, which had not yet been discovered. The young avenger was turned over to the police, who are closely guarding him for fear of possible mob violence.

According to Marchesi he went home at night and found his wife, Rosaria, and his cousin and namesake, occupying Mrs. Marchesi's bed chamber. Without allowing his presence to become known, Marchesi went to a wood shed, procured a hand ax, crept to the bedroom and chopped off the heads of the two.

Taking his baby, 2 months old and his 4-year old daughter, he went to the home of his brother and said that his wife was ill.

Marchesi then concealed the hatchet and began wandering about the city. As morning began to dawn, he hid in the basement of an Italian Catholic Church.

As the music of the morning mass came faintly to his ears, he said he thought he distinguished the words, "Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord." Then he rushed from his hiding place, went to the home of the parish priest and sought relief in confessing what he had done.

Marchesi has lived in Kenosha for ten years and acquired considerable wealth. He was one of the leaders among Italians of the West Side quarter in which he lived.

TO INVESTIGATE BURNS' CHARGES

Government May Ask Detective to Prove Statement That He Has Had to Hide Witnesses.

Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—William J. Burns, the detective, may be compelled to "make good" his assertions that the forces of organized labor have conspired to raise a "corruption fund" to defile the witnesses he has marshaled to convict James B. McNamara and his brother, John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of murdering the victims of the Los Angeles Times explosion. A. T. McCormick, United States district attorney, has been summoned to Washington by Attorney General Wickersham to "discuss certain phases of the McNamara case." The report is that his visit is to determine whether there was any reason for the transfer of the alleged evidence seized by Burns and his men in the raid on the Indianapolis offices of the Structural Iron Workers to the jurisdiction of the federal court in California, and then by them to the state courts and whether there was any truth in the charge made by Burns to the American Bankers' association at New Orleans that he had been compelled to "hide his witnesses because the American Federation of Labor had tried to bribe some and kidnap others."

MAKE IT EASY FOR CANDIDATES

Lawrence Educator Says Expenses of Primary and Election Should be Paid by State.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 27.—Running for office ought to be as free from expense, or almost so, as the right to vote. This innovation in politics was advocated by Prof. F. W. Blackmar in a lecture here. Prof. Blackmar declared the state should, by establishing a bureau of information, make it unnecessary for a candidate to spend large sums, first in a campaign for the nomination and later in a campaign for election. The state bureau should supply the voters with information which each candidate may furnish concerning his principles and qualification for office. Prof. Blackmar told his sociology class in this way the poor but honest candidates will not be "frozen out" by the candidates who are backed by large financial interests.

OAXACA SECEDES FROM MEXICO

State Refuses to Recognize Central Government and Will Maintain Sovereignty.

The City of Mexico, Nov. 27.—The state of Oaxaca has formally declared that it does not recognize the central government. The action was taken by the legislature and ratified by Gov. Benito Juarez, Jr., as a result of the refusal of President Madero to permit the federal troops to assist the governor in suppressing local insurgents.

Crowds marched through the streets of the town yelling "Death to Madero and the central government!" and declaring the people of Oaxaca would fight to the last to maintain the sovereignty of the state.

Mexico Road District Won.

Mexico, Mo., Nov. 27.—At a special election held here the measure to establish a special 8-mile road district with Mexico as the center, carried by a vote of 596 to 367.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Maryville Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Maryville. Follow the advice of a Maryville citizen and be cured yourself.

Mrs. A. Weidman, East Thompson street, Maryville, Mo., says: "I had terrible pains in my kidneys and was also bothered by the kidney secretions. The contraction of a cold or a change in the weather was sure to increase my suffering. I used every remedy that I thought would help me, but met with indifferent success. I had about despaired of ever finding relief, when I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at Charles A. Love's drug store and found them to be especially adapted to my case. I was soon free from all aches and pains and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition. I have enjoyed excellent health since then and I know that my cure is a permanent one."

Through the Lines.

The young man who had come with in an inch of being run over, said he always butted across the street that way to keep folks from finding out he was a country chap unused to city ways.

"If I should hang back," he said, "everybody would take me for a greenhorn, and I want people to think that I at least know how to cross the street city fashion."

"But the real town man doesn't cross the street in that bulldog fashion," said a gray-haired relative. "He drifts with the tide. Instead of butting through the middle of a wagon he ambles along beside it watching for an opening. Sometimes he is carried a block out of his way in the midst of vehicles before he finds a way out, but he is never in danger because he is going with the current. So if you want to be set down as a man who knows the life of city streets, don't break through a heavy line of traffic by main force, but follow the stream and take advantage of the point of least resistance."

He Was a 'Piscopai.

A Northwestern missionary bishop used to tell a story which was repeated to us last week by Rev. W. W. Washington of Cuyahoga Falls.

"I met an old farmer in North Dakota," he relates, "and in the course of conversation I asked him if he was connected with any religious denomination. 'Yesir,' he answered, 'I'm a 'Piscopai.'"

"Of course this gratified me, and I asked him what parish he belonged to. 'Hain't heard about no parish,' he said, with a puzzled expression.

"Well, what diocese?" I persisted. "You got me there, too." "Where were you confirmed?" "Dunno what you mean."

"Then how are you an Episcopalian?"

"Oh," he answered, brightening up at once. "I'll tell you. I went to a church down in Bismarck last winter, an' they called it 'Piscopai. And I heard the people sayin' that they'd 'done things they hadn't order done, an' left undone things they'd order done." An' I says, 'That's me, to a t.' an' since then, I've called myself a 'Piscopai."

"Now I understand," continued the bishop, laughing, why the membership of our church is so large."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Character in Handwriting.

If you write a small, almost feminine hand it may be a sign that you are destined to be a great statesman, according to David N. Carvalho, who finds that small handwriting is often characteristic of great men. Grover Cleveland's handwriting was of this type and so was William McKinley's.

"You find this type of writing in the large handed men," said Mr. Carvalho, "the men who are broad shouldered and well built, not perhaps tall." If you are a woman and make little pothooks at the end of your final m's and e's you are not likely to spend much money on the latest novelties in dress, nor are you apt to bother to do your hair up in puffs. Indeed these little twists on the end of letters indicate that you would make a sensible and economical wife. Your defect would be that you might embarrass your husband by eccentricity in dress through carelessness. A slurring penmanship indicates literary ability.

Between Doctors.

"Doctor, I want you to look after my office while I'm on vacation."

"But I've just graduated, doctor. Have had no experience."

"That's all right, my boy. My practice is strictly fashionable. Tell the men to play golf and ship the women patients off to Europe."

Business Instinct.

"Do you think a woman can keep a secret?"

"No; she always tries to syndicate it."—Judge.

Consideration.

"You wouldn't think of letting Mrs. Filmgilt hear the things you say behind her back?"

"Certainly not," replied Mrs. Somers. "I'm too kind-hearted."

The First Bread.

The "staff of life" was by no means the first item on men's bill of fare. For we know not how many ages human beings lived entirely without bread or anything approaching it in character. The first men were hunters and lived mostly on the flesh of the creatures they killed in the chase. The pastoral stage, which followed the hunter period, supplied milk along with the flesh of the domestic animals, and bread was practically unknown until men had settled down to agriculture. The Chinese emperor Ching Nong is said to have been the first to teach men the art of husbandry and the method of making bread from wheat about 4,000 years before Christ.

HOLD ENGLISH HIRING FAIR

Decorations Are Used by Farm Hands to Distinguish Their Different Callings

One of the oldest Michaelmas hiring fairs in England was held in the ancient market place of High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire, recently. From a wide radius, including parts of the three counties of Bucks, Berks and Oxon, farmers and agricultural employees in all departments flocked into the town early in the morning.

Harvesting having been finished, the attendance was much larger than usual, and there was a general disposition to "change hands," though the average terms of remuneration showed very little alteration.

Several old time customs still prevail, both at the hiring and in regard to the conditions upon which farm hands are engaged for the 12 months. For instance, plowmen decorate their buttonholes with strings of whpocord to denote their distinctive calling; shepherds display tufts of wool in their caps and their forelocks, and other farm hands utilize horsehair and fancy ribbons and rosettes for their personal adornment.

A good deal of time was occupied in "making the best terms," and in accordance with precedent of many years standing the engagements were conditional on the supplying of "beer," or "harvesting allowance," as it is called. The old fashioned custom of hiring servants in this way enlisted a good deal of public interest. The pleasure fair, relegated from the streets to a spacious enclosure in the town, attracted thousands, and it will be continued as usual for three days.

POOR CARE TAKEN OF SHOES

If Workmen Were Careful of Them the Business Wouldn't Be What It Is Now.

"Did you ever notice," said the shoe salesman, "that the people who take the poorest care of their shoes are the ones who can least afford to get new ones? It's a fact, though. Next time you ride in the Subway when the car isn't so crowded you can see people's feet take a look at the row of shoes. You'll find the laborers and working men of all sorts wear shoes that show no signs of care since they came from the factory. The heavy brogans that once were black have become the color of natural leather; you can see where shoes that have been wet have warped, lost all shape and are ready to crack; and those that haven't been wet are just drying up as the life of the leather oozes out. I tell you, if the workmen cared for their shoes properly the shoe business wouldn't be what it is now. I am not talking about 'shine,' and I haven't any special brand of blacking to sell. It's all the leather needs, and it isn't oil that makes shoes shine. When the farmers used to wear cowhide boots—before they plowed and milked by machinery—they used to take care of them by keeping them greased with tallow, and the country store didn't sell more than one pair of shoes a year to a man. But the men who do the heavy work now are not so wise, and the shoe trade takes toll of their ignorance.

Golden Matrimonial Age.

An interesting and unusual estimate of the proper age for matrimony is that advanced by Mrs. Vivian, head and founder of the National Society of the Daughters of California. The happiest and most successful marriages, she says, are those between the man of 50 and the woman of 35. At that age of discretion, she claims, the male has become more mellow and tolerant as well as more solvent. On the other hand she intimates that a girl of 20 is much harder to get along with than to get along without, and that there ought to be laws prohibiting people marrying before they are 30 years old.

When Mrs. Vivian's theory gets into working order the bachelor entering the bald, corpulent age of 50 may as well leave hope behind. If Dr. Osler doesn't get him the Daughters of California will.—Success.

Irresistible Impulse.

"I keep myself to myself," confided an old resident. "You modern young men are too much on the 'half-fellow, well-met' order. I boast of the fact that I did not speak to my next-door neighbor for ten years."

"How did you come to speak to him even then, sir?" we asked. "It must have been an extraordinary occasion."

"It was. The young jackanapes bought a new automobile."

"And you wanted a ride?"

"Sir! I am no grafter. Nor would I ride in one of the things for any consideration. No, sir. But the machine was new to him, and I couldn't resist the temptation to go over and give him some advice about running it."—Boston Traveler.

Queen Alexandra's "Home."

Queen Alexandra's favorite room is her boudoir at Sandringham. There she follows her own tastes without court dictation, and she affectionately talks of her boudoir as "home." The walls are in apple green and white, and the furniture is of the Marie Antoinette style. There is bric-a-brac collected by the queen herself from all corners of Europe. Everything in the room is of her personal selection. She passes most of her leisure time there, usually alone or with a confidante. Tea is always served at five o'clock in the boudoir, the queen herself pouring out the tea for her women guests.

HIS HOGS HAVE NO CHOLERA

MISSOURI FARMER RIDES ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD OF SCOURGE.

Has Treated Over Ten Thousand Animals, With a Loss of Only Three Per Cent.

Hardin, Mo., Nov. 27.—How R. S. Rust, a farmer eight miles north of this town, drove hog cholera from his herd of a thousand hogs and rid the neighborhood of the scourge, is a story that is attracting a lot of attention among the farmers in this section. Mr. Rust believes he has made a contribution to the hog cholera problem that is of peculiar value right at this time, when the disease is so widespread that the farmers are rushing their hogs to the packing centers before they are in marketable condition in order to escape the disease.

Mr. Rust accomplished his results with the hog cholera serum as developed by the government and as now being made by the agricultural colleges, except that he discarded entirely the serum treatment alone. He gives the hogs what is known as the simultaneous treatment.

Let me explain the difference," said Mr. Rust. "The serum treatment consists simply in injecting into a hog the blood of another hog which has been made absolutely immune from cholera. The simultaneous treatment consists of injecting this same serum into the well hog and at the same time injecting a small quantity of real cholera blood, taken from a hog that had the cholera when the blood was drawn. The cholera blood gives the well hog the cholera while the serum furnishes the fighting element that overcomes the disease. This immunizes the hog as long as it lives.

"In the last eight months I have given the simultaneous treatment to more than 10,000 hogs. My losses will not amount to more than 3 per cent. Indeed, I do not believe they amount to that much."

Mr. Rust has a farm of 1,300 acres. He farms 900 acres and has tenants on the remainder. He has been on this farm about 25 years.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF GOVERNOR

Device Containing Powder, and a Match Mailed to Residence of Pennsylvania Executive.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 27.—What is believed to have been an attempt to injure Gov. John K. Tener, of if not that, a practical joke that might have been serious, was discovered at Charleroi, Pa., the home of the governor.

An ingeniously contrived device, containing powder, a match, piece of steel, a bullet shaped piece of lead and a small sheet of paper inscribed "Drive the Republican bosses out," is in the hands of the United States postal authorities. A rigid investigation is now under way.

The mail package was turned over to Inspector Williams. He saturated the contrivance with water, and after waiting some time opened it with a penknife. The outer cover was labeled with a printed slip reading:

Memorial to state's heroes dedicated.

Inside was found powder, mixed with a substance as yet unidentified. In the middle of the cylindrical shaped package was a match, while in one end there was a piece of steel, peculiarly bent, which, when removed, would have a tendency to light the match. A bullet shaped piece of lead of about 22-caliber size also was found.

ROCK ISLAND TROUBLE AVERTED

Settlement Made Avoids Strike Contemplated Affecting Eight Thousand Men.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The settlement agreed upon by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway and its shopmen averts a strike which would have affected 8,000 men. The shopmen, after five months of negotiation, in which concessions were made on both sides, have accepted the company's wage scale and signed a contract for another year.

The original 34 demands were reduced to six, including an advance of two cents an hour in wages and a change in working conditions. The railroad officials refused these demands, declaring that general business conditions did not warrant any increase in operating expenses. After full consideration, the union officials sent a letter to President Mudge accepting the terms.

Again Heads A. F. of L.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 27.—Re-electing Samuel Gompers president by acclamation and choosing Rochester, N. Y. as the next meeting place, the American Federation of Labor convention closed amid scenes of great enthusiasm. Gompers wept with joy at the tremendous demonstration in his honor which ended peacefully the busy scenes of the last two weeks in which he faced criticism, and came out triumphantly.

Now Mr. Hilles Says No.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Positive denial was issued by Secretary Hilles at the White House to a story to the effect that President Taft had "met the challenge of the progressives" and would "urge a Presidential primary in Ohio."

TOOK A BRICK WALL

ALLEGATION IN SUIT ON TRIAL IN CIRCUIT COURT MONDAY.

OSCAR COUSSINS PAROLED

No Damages for Dougherty—St. Patrick's School Won Its Case and Got Verdict for $789.19.

The suit of George W. Crossan vs. James Vert of Wilcox was being tried Monday in circuit court before a jury, the attorneys for the plaintiff being Ellis G. Cook and W. H. Crawford, and for the defendant, Cook, Cummins & Dawson. The suit is for $450, and it is claimed by the plaintiff that a brick wall and basement and foundation walls made of brick were built, costing $150, and that the defendant, without the knowledge or consent of the plaintiff, removed and carried away the wall without any rights.

The case was given to the jury late Monday afternoon.

Oscar Coussins, 18 years old, pleaded guilty in circuit court Monday morning to raising a check from $2 to $5, and was sentenced to three years in the reform school. He was, however, paroled on condition that a bond of $500 be given; that he report at each term of court for two years and give a strict account of himself, and that he will not drink, play cards for money or violate any of the laws. Coussins is from Hopkins.

The jury in the case of C. C. Dougherty vs. A. J. Holt for $5,000 damages came in late Saturday evening and gave a verdict, signed by nine of the jury for the defendant.

The case of E. A. Johnson vs. Walter P. Mann for damages was dismissed for want of prosecution.

In the case of the St. Patrick's Catholic school of this city vs. Riggs & Ellsberry et al., action on bond, a jury was waived and the evidence was presented to court and judgment was given for the plaintiff for $789.19.

Ira Gray vs. J. W. New, defendant filed motion for a new trial.

Lawrence F. Growney vs. the Wabash, the plaintiff filed motion for a new trial.

In the naturalization of Ulrich Geisler, owing to defect in the application for citizenship, it was dismissed.

In the partition suit of Robert E. Snodgrass vs. Sarah Jane Morgan et al., a decree was given by the plaintiff.

WAR CALLS HIM BACK

JOE RIZZI OF HOPKINS MUST RETURN TO ITALY.

GIVEN 60 DAYS TO REPORT

His Family is Still in Italy and He Will Have to Obey Call or Be Subject to Arrest.

The war Italy is waging against Turkey means more to Joe Rizzi, who is a carver for the Missouri and Iowa Granite company of Hopkins than it does to many residents of the United States. Rizzi has just received official notice from his native country to return to Italy and enlist in its war against Turkey. He is given sixty days to report for duty, and as the trip can be made in fifteen days, he will remain here for perhaps a month yet in the hope that the war will end by that time, for, in which event, he will not be compelled to make the trip. Even if he should refuse to answer the summons he would not be molested so long as he remains away from Italy, but should he return to his native land he would be promptly arrested and sent to jail. His family still lives in Italy, and he has made several trips to that country since first coming to the United States. His fare will be paid to Italy when he goes to enlist, but in the event that he returns to the United States after being discharged he will be compelled to bear his own expenses. Rizzi is an Italian of considerable intelligence and is skilled as a carver in marble, having worked on some of the most notable structures in this country, among them being the five-million dollar mansion of United States Senator Clark in New York City.

NORMALS DEFEATED BEDFORD.

Basket Ball Team Won Game by Score of 46 to 27.

Coach Moore's Normal basket ball warriors annexed their third victory of the season in as many games, Saturday night, when they defeated the Bedford, Ia., high school quintet at the Bedford city hall by a score of 46 to 27. The Normals out-classed their opponents and would doubtless have won by a more decisive score if the game had been played on a larger floor. The locals are used to playing on a near regulation court, and the small Bedford court was somewhat of a handicap. The Normals secured a comfortable lead in the first half, but in the second half the high school lads took a brace and played a much closer game. The locals scored 18 field goals. H. Seymour and Mitchell got 6 each, Perrin 5 and V. Seymour 1. V. Seymour, who took McClintock's place at guard, demonstrated that he was a clever understudy for his opponent did not get a semblance of a goal. McGrew also played a good game, but he guarded a more skillful opponent. Captain Perrin improved somewhat in his free throwing, ten goals out of fifteen chances being his record for Saturday night. The Normals lined up as follows: H. Seymour and Perrin, forwards; Mitchell, center; McGrew and V. Seymour, guards. S. E. Miller and Taylor were the substitutes.

With Vandersloot and Bent, both former high school stars, starting in school at the winter quarter, which begins December 4, together with the present team, Coach Moore anticipates a very successful basket ball season.

Went to Rochester.

Samuel Masters of South Market street, who has been very ill for the past six weeks, left Monday forenoon for Rochester, Minn., to consult the physicians at Mayo hospital in regard to his case. Mr. Masters was accompanied by Mrs. Masters and his brother, George Masters.

A SERVICE OF SONG

A SPECIAL THANKSGIVING PROGRAM RENDERED BY CHOIR.

LADIES' QUARTET SANG

Solo Parts by Messrs. Perrin and Mutz and Miss Corwin—Quartet, Misses Clark, Kemp, Wray, Clayton.

A Thanksgiving music service was given at the First M. E. church Sunday night under the direction of Prof. P. O. Landon. One person who attended the service, in writing of it, said:

"Of the many inspiring church services, held regularly in the M. E. church each Lord's day, none could be more uplifting to the spirit than was the Thanksgiving song service of Sunday evening. To say the program was beautiful would be to offer but scant praise for the magnificent feast of song.

"The music was sung by the M. E. church choir, assisted by the Conservatory quartet and others, under the directorship of Prof. P. O. Landon. Solo parts were carried by Messrs. Perrin and Mutz and Miss Mae Corwin. The number given by the ladies' quartet composed of Misses Clark, Kemp, Wray and Clayton was very pleasing, their voices blending in harmony as appealing as it was beautiful.

"A dominant note of reverent religious feeling pervaded the entire service, which was but intensified by the remarks by Rev. J. S. Ford, suggesting that true thankfulness to the Lord for his many mercies could, perhaps, best be shown by trying to make some being happier on Thanksgiving day other than ourselves.

"The closing number was a splendidly rendered anthem of thanks and praise by the entire chorus. Such services are much appreciated by all who hear them, and especially by the music loving public.

"Much credit is due Prof. Landon for the high standard maintained in the musical numbers produced by the M. E. church choir, as well as to the faithful, painstaking co-operation of the choir working under his directorship. The program was as follows: "Hear Me, O Lord"..... Parks "I Am Alpha and Omega"..... Stanner "Unfold, Ye Portals," from "The Redemption"..... Gounod Hail, Prince of Light"..... Abbott A quartet of ladies from the choir Miss Maude Clark, Miss LaRue Kemp, Miss Nellie Wray and Miss Ada Clayton, sang "The Winds Are Hushed," by Shapier.

BURIAL WAS MONDAY MORNING.

Nineteen-Year-Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Busby Died Saturday Afternoon.

Charles Busby, the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elihu Busby, living ten miles south of Maryville, died Saturday afternoon after a two years' illness of diabetes. The funeral services were held at St. Mary's Catholic church Monday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Father Anselm. The young man is survived by his parents and one young brother and four sisters, John Busby and Miss Chloe Busby, a teacher; Miss Esther Busby, a student at St. Joseph's academy at Clyde, and Florence and Dorothy at home. This is the third son Mr. and Mrs. Busby have lost. They have the sympathy of many friends.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses to us during our sorrow over the loss of our beloved son and brother, Charles Busby. May God bless you all, is our prayer.—Elihu Busby and Family.

MINK LEAGUE MEETING.

Held Recently at Nebraska City to Check Up Year's Business.

The Mink League directors met recently at Nebraska City, Neb., to check up the year's work. Humboldt was given a permanent franchise. It is very doubtful if Shenandoah will make an effort to remain in the league. With the addition of the new Nebraska town, the expenses for the home club would be very materially increased, and which, added to the yearly deficit already insured with the former lower expense, would probably be more than Shenandoah would care to afford.—Shenandoah World.

WM. R. M'KEE DEAD

PROMINENT FARMER AND STOCK RAISER DIED OF CANCER.

FATHER OF 20 CHILDREN

Twice Married and is Survived by Widow and Number of Descendants.

William Reed McKee, for many years a prominent farmer, stockman and auctioneer of Nodaway county, died at his home, seven miles north-east of Maryville, Sunday afternoon. The funeral arrangements have not been made. Mr. McKee had been sick of cancer of the stomach for the past six months and was a great sufferer.

Mr. McKee had been a resident of Nodaway county since the fall of 1871. He was born in Holmes county, O., April 12, 1839, and lived in that county until eighteen years of age, when he moved with his parents to Pike county, O., and lived there twenty years. When he was 19 years of age he began improving a farm of his own in Ohio, and has given his attention to agricultural pursuits ever since. In the fall of 1871 he came to Missouri and settled on a farm seven miles south of Maryville, and lived on that place a few years, when he moved to the Pickering vicinity.

He has always been one of the progressive and intelligent farmers of Nodaway county. Mr. McKee was twice married. His first marriage was to Miss Cynthia Roberts, a native of Pike county, Ohio, on August 6, 1857. Seven children were born to them, one dying in infancy. The living children are Mrs. Ira Loch of Dover, Okla.; Mrs. Joseph Everhart, living near Pickering; Mrs. Zone Loch, near Pickering; F. H. McKee, Santa Rosa, Cal. and N. O. McKee of Pascho, Wash. Mrs. McKee's death occurred many years ago.

His second marriage was to Miss Mollie Jones of near Pickering. Thirteen children were born to them, one of whom is dead. The living children are: Mrs. Pearl Strong of Parnell; Mrs. Leola Loch and Mrs. Alex Swaney of Pickering, Roy McKee, Miss Lena McKee, Charles, Wallace, Leland, Fay, Fern, Claud and Raymond McKee at home, who survive with the mother.

Mr. McKee had been a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal church for many years. He was a good citizen, a kind neighbor and a devoted husband and father.

OLD WOOD IN VIOLIN.

Stanberry Man Makes Musical Instrument From Spruce and Maple.

A hand-made violin fashioned from wood more than 125 years old, has been completed by Dr. G. L. Coffey of Stanberry, says the St. Joseph News-Press. An expert has examined the instrument and made Dr. Coffey an offer of several thousand dollars for it, but this was refused.

The wood, which is of spruce and maple, was procured from the ruins of an old house that stood near Albany, this county, known as the Hundley building and which was said to have been about ninety years old. Dr. Coffey procured the wood directly from Professor Rose of Albany, who has had it in his possession more than thirty-five years.

TERM CLOSES WEDNESDAY.

Examinations Being Given at the Normal This Week.

As the fall quarter of the Normal closes Wednesday, Nov. 29, examinations are in full sway this week. Announcement was made by Dean Colbert in chapel Monday morning that the program of the winter term, which opens Monday, Dec. 4, would be posted within the next few days.

Here From West Virginia.

Mrs. J. L. Shelton and little son of Morgantown, W. Va., arrived in Maryville Monday forenoon on the Wabash and went to Hopkins Monday noon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming. TARKIO WANTS IT

OMAHA-KANSAS CITY HIGHWAY DESIRED BY ATCHISON CO. TOWN.

ASK MARYVILLE'S HELP

Think They Have a Better Route Than the One Through Clarinda—Delegation Here.

A party of Tarkio autoists, headed by Mayor H. M. Hall and W. F. Rankin of that place, came in their automobiles to Maryville Monday afternoon to confer with the board of directors of the Commercial club and with the Automobile club in regard to having the proposed Omaha-Kansas City highway to come by way of Tarkio instead of going by Clarinda, Ia. The Omaha-Kansas City highway, as had been mapped out, goes from Omaha to Shenandoah, then to Clarinda, then to Burlington Junction and on to Maryville, and from this place to St. Joseph over the Saints Highway.

The Tarkio autoists want the help and aid of the Maryville club to have the route changed so as to take in Tarkio. The trail then would be from Shenandoah to Tarkio, and then to Burlington Junction and Maryville. They are meeting with the Commercial club directors and Automobile club this afternoon in the Commercial club rooms, and it is probable that some action will be taken by the club to have Tarkio on the proposed route.

In the Tarkio delegation were Mayor Hall, W. F. Rankin, John A. Rankin, J. D. Rankin, Blaine Shaum, Frank Travis, W. L. Kendal, Glenn Kendal, W. F. Marshall, H. E. Miller and Harry Miller.

WAS PASTOR HERE

REV. O. W. LAWRENCE, WHO DIED IN WASHINGTON.

WAS HERE FOR FIVE YEARS

This Was His First Pastorate, and Many Maryville Friends Will Sorrow at News.

Rev. O. W. Lawrence, pastor of the First Christian church of Maryville for five years from 1898 to 1903, died Saturday evening in North Yakima, Wash., from pneumonia fever. Rev. Lawrence, while on his way from Decatur, Ill., to North Yakima a month ago, had caught a cold, which later developed in pneumonia fever.

Rev. Lawrence was called to the Christian church at North Yakima, Wash., in October, and left Decatur, Ill., where he had been pastor of the Christian church there for five years. He took charge of the pastorate at North Yakima on November 1.

Word of Rev. Lawrence's death was received in Maryville from Rev. C. M. Chilton of St. Joseph, a former pastor of the church here. No announcement was made as to the funeral, other than that he would be buried at Payson, Ill.

Rev. Lawrence was born near Payson, Adams county, Ill., on March 13, 1874. He attended Drake university for five years, and after graduation his first work as a minister was in Maryville, where he accepted the pastorate of the Christian church and continued in charge until 1903, when he went to Rock Island, Ill. On May 16, 1899, he was married to a daughter of Chancellor W. B. Craig of Drake university. His wife and four children survive.

It is doubtful whether there was a more popular pastor in Maryville than Rev. Lawrence. He was as popular outside of his church as he was in it. The church had a wonderful growth under his pastorate. Many friends in Maryville are sorry to hear of his death, and extend their sympathies to his wife and children in their deep bereavement.

HIS PLOW 100 YEARS OLD.

Gentry County Man Raises Good Crop With Ancient Implements.

With a plow made 100 years ago, hauled by hand from scrap steel, James Murphy of Gentry, Mo., this year cultivated thirty acres of corn. In addition he used a single line in guiding his horse through the corn rows, employing the methods in vogue half a century ago. He raised a good crop.

Murphy is 72 years old. He is a hermit and every day during the plowing season he drove two miles to his field, cooked his own meals and did his own housework.

It is no easy task for a man to tend thirty acres with more modern implements. With a single shovel plow it was necessary for Murphy to make three trips between each row of corn.

The corn made 70 bushels to the acre on the McClurg farm. If any one has this record beaten we would like to hear about it.

STALE PHRASES ARE NEEDED

Writer Who Expresses a Powerful Emotion Must Say What Has Been Said Countless Times.

Our dramatic critic, in his review of Sardou's play "Above Suspicion," said of one of the characters that "his lips were sealed," and remarked that such phrases necessarily accompany such plays. They do, indeed, and the use of them makes one understand the emotional quality of such plays better than the most elaborate analysis of them.

There are hundreds of phrases like this, containing metaphors both violent and stale, which are only used seriously by writers who snatch at the easiest means of expressing an emotion which they do not feel. For if a writer has a real emotion of his own to express he will either use a metaphor suggested to him by that particular emotion or none at all. This is a matter of instinct, not of literary art; for a fresh emotion will not be satisfied with stale phrases but will feel itself misrepresented by them. That is one reason why, when powerfully moved, we are often so inarticulate. We feel that commonplaces will not serve our turn, but we have nothing to put in their place. The writer's task is to be neither inarticulate nor commonplace. He must not be artless, nor must he give us bad art for good. If he has a new idea to express he is not tempted by stale phrases. For they are associated with emotions rather than with thoughts, since emotions are not discoveries, like new ideas, and when expressed in literature are valued, not for their novelty, but for the power with which they are expressed. Thus, a writer who expresses a new idea says what has never been said before, but a writer who wishes to express a powerful emotion has to say what has probably been said a thousand times, and by bad writers as well as good. These bad writers have burdened our memory with metaphors, some of them lifeless from the first, some killed by constant repetition, or in appropriate use; and their metaphors stay in our minds because they have been so often repeated. The good writer's mind is often infested with them, so that, before he can find the phrase he wants, he must reject half a dozen that he does not want. This is the penalty that he has to pay for living at a time when literature is old and language sophisticated. — London Times.

MAY CORNER COCOA CROP

Brazil Is Much Pleased With Its Success in Raising Price of Coffee.

Encouraged by the success it has achieved in controlling the coffee crop of the republic and forcing Americans to pay a high price the Brazilian government is now planning to enter into a combination with Portugal and Ecuador to corner the cocoa crop and manipulate prices at will.

These three countries produce more than half of the world's output of cocoa, and Jose Marcellino, a Brazilian who formerly served in the senate of that country, is the father of the plan to whoop up the prices of cocoa the world over.

A large London banking house is reported to have offered $10,000,000 to the promoters of the valorization plan in case the three governments interested will enter into a satisfactory agreement. Valorization of coffee by the government of Brazil has been very successful. The government has financed the crops and by lending money to growers has been able to prevent the sale of coffee, except at prices which were satisfactory to the growers.

A few years ago, when the United States took the duty of five cents a pound off coffee, Brazil repaid this country by placing an export duty of the same amount on coffee. In repayment for this greedy act it has frequently been argued that the United States should again tax Brazilian coffee and many economists insist that the imposition of a duty on coffee would upset the Brazilian valorization plan without increasing the price of coffee to the American consumer.

Cocoa is a much more difficult crop than coffee to control, because of the perishable nature of the cocoa beans. When kept for any length of time they become wormy and are worthless.

MOST VALUABLE OF GARDENS

It is Located Inside the Bank of England and Was Once a Graveyard.

"As safe as the Bank of England," has become almost a proverb. But recent events have shown that the bank is not quite as safe in its foundations as was generally supposed. One or two great cracks have suddenly appeared, which necessitate the help of the builder.

There are many curious things about the bank, but among them how many know that it possesses a respectable garden? It is to be found just inside the Threadneedle street entrance, on the left hand side. This old-fashioned garden has a fountain in the center, graveled paths and a couple of trees, the whole forming a quadrangle with the bank building running all round.

Its history is a curious one. In reality this garden is the churchyard of the vanished church of St. Christopher-le-Stock, which used to stand where the Mansion house now is.

One reason why the church was pulled down was because its tower completely overlooked the bank, and it was feared that it would be a danger to the "Old Lady" if the church was occupied by rioters.

As the bank occupies the site of the entire parish of Christopher-le-Stock, it is said that any freeman of the city can claim admission to the old garden. But, as a matter of fact, any one who cares to see it may do so during business hours, and it is well worth a visit, if only for the fact that it is the most valuable garden in the world!—Stray Stories.

How Women Take Criticism.

In the Life of John Oliver Hoobes, edited by her father, John Morgan Richards, there is a slashing arraignment of the literary woman in her attitude toward those who criticize her work. It is from the pen of Moberly Bell, the famous editor of the London Times. Moberly Bell and Mrs. Craigie were personal friends, and the latter wrote protesting against the treatment that the Flute of Pan had received at the hands of the Times reviewers. In response the editor wrote in part: "There is one thing and only one thing that the omnipotent has absolutely failed to create. He has made good women, bad women, clever women, silly women, selfish women and heroines of self-sacrifice, but he had never yet made a woman who could stand—I will not say adverse criticism, but—one note of deviation from absolute and unqualified praise of any of her literary efforts. This is not in blame of anyone—unless the Creator—it is a law as certain as the law of gravitation, and there is and has never been any exception to it from Deborah to George Eliot, and even later (the assumption of a masculine name cannot alter the fact), there is a unanimity of proof."—Bookman.

The Mosquito Still Here.

Along in the early springtime—about the time when the frogs come out of the mud and tune up for the concert—we organize a mosquito-exterminating crusade here in Baltimore, and we proceed, hypothetically, to exterminate the pests with energy and enthusiasm. By August we have forgotten all about the mosquito warfare, and September always brings the swarms. The spring of the year is the right time to start the war on the mosquito, just as it is the proper time for inaugurating the fly-exterminating crusade. But in either case the warfare must be a matter of eternal vigilance.—Baltimore American.

DIED IN THEIR HOUSE OF SAND

Three Children Killed and Two Injured While Playing.

30Y'S KICK CAUSES AVALANCHE

Girl Saves Herself and Two Injured Playmates by Prompt and Heroic Work—Her Own Brother Smothered.

Kansas City, Kan., Nov. 27.—Eight children went to play in a bank of sand here and dug a cave back about 20 feet. Then as they contemplated their work from the inside a boy's contemptuous kick shook the sand pit. The 14-foot bank above them fell in, three of the children were killed and two were injured severely.

The dead are: Ethel Hutchinson, 11 years old, Flossie Hutchinson, 14 and Roscoe Sparks, 9.

Lydia Hutchinson, 16 years old, sister of the two girls killed and Harold Hutchings, 10 years old, were seriously injured.

By the efforts of Lizzie Sparks, 16 years old, the two injured children escaped death. She saved their lives and her own, not knowing that her brother Roscoe, 9 years old, also had been buried. Besides the three dead and the two injured there were in the party Willie McGowan, 8 years old, Lizzie Sparks, and Fennie Hutchinson, 18 years old, who had gone to the pit to watch her sisters and the others play.

After the children had dug back about 20 feet Willie McGowan exclaimed: "This isn't nearly as nice as the cave I dug down here a little ways."

As he spoke he kicked the side of the cave contemptuously. Before the children could take warning the avalanche of sand came down upon them.

Lizzie Sparks was in the middle of the cave. She quickly realized what was happening and fought to keep her feet. She succeeded and the sand only reached her waist.

The girl patiently went to work scooping the sand away from herself with her hands and then, crawling over Fennie Hutchinson and Willie McGowan, obtained a shovel at the mouth of the cave and quickly dug the sand off Lydia Hutchinson and Harold Hutchings. When they were free, she dragged them, almost suffocated, to the entrance of the cave and worked with them until they had recovered their breath. Then she freed Fennie Hutchinson and Willie McGowan from the sand. Together the elder sister and the McGowan boy and Lizzie Sparks went back into the cave and dug the sand off the bodies of Ethel and Flossie Hutchinson. Then Lizzie Sparks ran to the home of Isaac Engel, near the sand pit, and told him of the accident. He called an undertaker and physician.

Osage City, Kan., to be Meeting Place for Crowds From Lawrence and Olathe.

Topeka, Nov. 27.—Two special trains loaded with good roads boosters will meet in Osage City next Friday to discuss the building of the Pan-American highway from Osage City west to Great Bend. One train will start from Lawrence and go through Topeka, picking up 100 Topeka business men and good roads advocates and a band. The train will start from Lawrence with 50 men. Another train will start from Olathe and will carry Senator George H. Hodges and 50 others and pick up 50 more at Ottawa and a few at all the intermediate points.

There is a rock road from Kansas City to Olathe and improved dirt roads for practically every mile to Osage City. Only a little work near Quenemo in grading around Rattlesnake Hill is to be done to make the road a first class dirt boulevard from Olathe to Osage City. But the Topeka and Lawrence people also want this road, and they are going to Osage City to try to get help in road building along the Kaw Valley to Topeka and thence south to Osage City, where it would join with the already completed roadway and then extend westward.

South Dakota Teachers Meet.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 27.—Governor Vessey and Mayor Stephens this afternoon extended a warm welcome to the members of the South Dakota Educational association, who met in annual convention in the Auditorium. Superintendent Jonas Leyman, of Yankton, responded, and then President C. E. Swanson delivered his address. This evening the Beadle statue will be unveiled at the state house, the address being delivered by Prof. George M. Smith, of Vermillion. The convention will continue through Wednesday.

Fire at Roxbury.

Salina, Kan., Nov. 27.—Fire destroyed the Laloque & Maddox hardware store at Roxbury. The loss on the frame building was $1,800 and on the stock $8,000, partly covered by insurance.

MURDERED AND CONFESSED

WEALTHY ITALIAN KILLS WIFE AND PARAMOUR.

Hiding in a Church Basement, Music of Morning Mass Leads Him to Tell of Crime.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 27.—Tortured by the mental picture of his headless wife and her paramour, whom he slew together, Pasquale Marchesi, 27 years old, a merchant, went to a priest and confessed the crime, which had not yet been discovered. The young avenger was turned over to the police, who are closely guarding him for fear of possible mob violence.

According to Marchesi he went home at night and found his wife, Rosaria, and his cousin and namesake, occupying Mrs. Marchesi's bed chamber. Without allowing his presence to become known, Marchesi went to a wood shed, procured a hand ax, crept to the bedroom and chopped off the heads of the two.

Taking his baby, 2 months old and his 4-year old daughter, he went to the home of his brother and said that his wife was ill.

Marchesi then concealed the hatchet and began wandering about the city. As morning began to dawn, he hid in the basement of an Italian Catholic Church.

As the music of the morning mass came faintly to his ears, he said he thought he distinguished the words, "Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord." Then he rushed from his hiding place, went to the home of the parish priest and sought relief in confessing what he had done.

Marchesi has lived in Kenosha for ten years and acquired considerable wealth. He was one of the leaders among Italians of the West Side quarter in which he lived.

TO INVESTIGATE BURNS' CHARGES

Government May Ask Detective to Prove Statement That He Has Had to Hide Witnesses.

Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—William J. Burns, the detective, may be compelled to "make good" his assertions that the forces of organized labor have conspired to raise a "corruption fund" to defile the witnesses he has marshaled to convict James B. McNamara and his brother, John J. McNamara, secretary and treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, of murdering the victims of the Los Angeles Times explosion. A. T. McCormick, United States district attorney, has been summoned to Washington by Attorney General Wickersham to "discuss certain phases of the McNamara case." The report is that his visit is to determine whether there was any reason for the transfer of the alleged evidence seized by Burns and his men in the raid on the Indianapolis offices of the Structural Iron Workers to the jurisdiction of the federal court in California, and then by them to the state courts and whether there was any truth in the charge made by Burns to the American Bankers' association at New Orleans that he had been compelled to "hide his witnesses because the American Federation of Labor had tried to bribe some and kidnap others."

MAKE IT EASY FOR CANDIDATES

Lawrence Educator Says Expenses of Primary and Election Should be Paid by State.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 27.—Running for office ought to be as free from expense, or almost so, as the right to vote. This innovation in politics was advocated by Prof. F. W. Blackmar in a lecture here. Prof. Blackmar declared the state should, by establishing a bureau of information, make it unnecessary for a candidate to spend large sums, first in a campaign for the nomination and later in a campaign for election. The state bureau should supply the voters with information which each candidate may furnish concerning his principles and qualification for office. Prof. Blackmar told his sociology class in this way the poor but honest candidates will not be "frozen out" by the candidates who are backed by large financial interests.

OAXACA SECEDES FROM MEXICO

State Refuses to Recognize Central Government and Will Maintain Sovereignty.

The City of Mexico, Nov. 27.—The state of Oaxaca has formally declared that it does not recognize the central government. The action was taken by the legislature and ratified by Gov. Benito Juarez, Jr., as a result of the refusal of President Madero to permit the federal troops to assist the governor in suppressing local insurrectionists.

Crowds marched through the streets of the town yelling "Death to Madero and the central government!" and declaring the people of Oaxaca would fight to the last to maintain the sovereignty of the state.

Mexico Road District Won.

Mexico, Mo., Nov. 27.—At a special election held here the measure to establish a special 8-mile road district with Mexico as the center, carried by a vote of 596 to 367.

DON'T EXPERIMENT.

You Will Make No Mistake if You Follow This Maryville Citizen's Advice.

Never neglect your kidneys. If you have pain in the back, urinary disorders, dizziness and nervousness, it's time to act and no time to experiment. These are all symptoms of kidney trouble, and you should seek a remedy which is known to cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use. No need to experiment. It has cured many stubborn cases in Maryville. Follow the advice of a Maryville citizen and be cured yourself.

Mrs. A. Weldman, East Thompson street, Maryville, Mo., says: "I had terrible pains in my kidneys and was also bothered by the kidney secretions. The contraction of a cold or a change in the weather was sure to increase my suffering. I used every remedy that I thought would help me, but met with indifferent success. I had almost despaired of ever finding relief, when I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured a box at Charles A. Love's drug store and found them to be especially adapted to my case. I was soon free from all aches and pains and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition. I have enjoyed excellent health since then and I know that my cure is a permanent one."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Notice of Final Settlement.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, H. H. McClurg, administrator of the estate of Thomas L. McClurg, deceased, will make final settlement of his accounts with said estate as such administrator at the next term of the probate court of Nodaway county, Missouri, to be holden at Maryville, in said county, on the 4th day of December, A. D. 1911.

H. H. MCCLURG, Administrator.

Through the Lines.

The young man who had come with in an inch of being run over, said he always butted across the street that way to keep folks from finding out he was a country chap unused to city ways.

"If I should hang back," he said, "everybody would take me for a greenhorn, and I want people to think that I at least know how to cross the street city fashion."

"But the real town man doesn't cross the street in that bull-dog fashion," said a gray-haired relative. "He drifts with the tide. Instead of butting through the middle of a wagon he ambles along beside it watching for an opening. Sometimes he is carried a block out of his way in the midst of vehicles before he finds a way out, but he is never in danger because he is going with the current. So if you want to be set down as a man who knows the life of city streets, don't break through a heavy line of traffic by main force, but follow the stream and take advantage of the point of least resistance."

He Was a 'Piscopai.

A Northwestern missionary bishop used to tell a story which was repeated to us last week by Rev. W. W. Washington of Chuyaboga Falls.

"I met an old farmer in North Dakota," he relates, "and in the course of conversation I asked him if he was connected with any religious denomination. 'Yessir,' he answered, 'I'm a 'Piscopai.'"

"Of course this gratified me, and I asked him what parish he belonged to. 'I hadn't heard about no parish,' he said, with a puzzled expression.

"Well, what diocese?" I persisted. "You got me there, too."

"Where were you confirmed?"

"Dunno what you mean."

"Then how are you an Episcopalian?"

"Oh," he answered, brightening up at once. "I'll tell you. I went to a church down in Bismarck last winter, an' they called it 'Piscopai. And I heard the people sayin' that they'd 'done things they hadn't orter done, an' left undone things they'd orter done." An' I says, 'That's me, to a t,' an' since then, I've called myself a 'Piscopai."

"Now I understand," continued the bishop, laughing, why the membership of our church is so large."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Character in Handwriting.

If you write a small, almost feminine hand it may be a sign that you are destined to be a great statesman, according to David N. Carvalho, who finds that small handwriting is often characteristic of great men. Grover Cleveland's handwriting was of this type and so was William McKinley's.

"You find this type of writing in the large handed men," said Mr. Carvalho, "the men who are broad shouldered and well built, not perhaps tall."

If you are a woman and make little pothooks at the end of your final m's and e's you are not likely to spend much money on the latest novelties in dress, nor are you apt to bother to do your hair up in puffs. Indeed these little twists on the end of letters indicate that you would make a sensible and economical wife. Your defect would be that you might embarrass your husband by eccentricity in dress through carelessness. A slurring penmanship indicates literary ability.

Between Doctors.

"Doctor, I want you to look after my office while I'm on vacation."

"But I've just graduated, doctor. Have had no experience."

"That's all right, my boy. My practice is strictly fashionable. Tell the men to play golf and ship the women patients off to Europe."

Business Instinct.

"Do you think a woman can keep a secret?"

"No; she always tries to syndicate it."—Judge.

Consideration.

"You wouldn't think of letting Mrs. Filmgilt hear the things you say behind her back?"

"Certainly not," replied Mrs. Somers. "I'm too kind-hearted."

The First Bread.

The "staff of life" was by no means the first item on men's bill of fare. For we know not how many ages human beings lived entirely without bread or anything approaching it in character. The first men were hunters and lived mostly on the flesh of the creatures they killed in the chase. The pastoral stage, which followed the hunter period, supplied milk along with the flesh of the domestic animals, and bread was practically unknown until men had settled down to agriculture. The Chinese emperor Ching Nong is said to have been the first to teach men the art of husbandry and the method of making bread from wheat about 4,000 years before Christ.

HOLD ENGLISH HIRING FAIR

Decorations Are Used by Farm Hands to Distinguish Their Different Callings

One of the oldest Michaelmas hiring fairs in England was held in the ancient market place of High Wycombe, Buckinghamshire, recently. From a wide radius, including parts of the three counties of Bucks, Berks and Oxon, farmers and agricultural employees in all departments flocked into the town early in the morning.

Harvesting having been finished, the attendance was much larger than usual, and there was a general disposition to "change hands," though the average terms of remuneration showed very little alteration.

Several old time customs still prevail, both at the hiring and in regard to the conditions upon which farm hands are engaged for the 12 months. For instance, plowmen decorate their buttonholes with strings of whpood to denote their distinctive calling; shepherds display tufts of wool in their caps and their forelocks, and other farm hands utilize horsehair and fancy ribbons and rosettes for their personal adornment.

A good deal of time was occupied in "making the best terms," and in accordance with precedent of many years standing the engagements were conditional on the supplying of "beer," or "harvesting allowance," as it is called. The old fashioned custom of hiring servants in this way enlisted a good deal of public interest. The pleasure fair, relegated from the streets to a spacious enclosure in the town, attracted thousands, and it will be continued as usual for three days.

POOR CARE TAKEN OF SHOES

If Workmen Were Careful of Them the Business Wouldn't Be What It Is Now.

"Did you ever notice," said the shoe salesman, "that the people who take the poorest care of their shoes are the ones who can least afford to get new ones? It's a fact, though. Next time you ride in the Subway when the car isn't so crowded you can see people's feet take a look at the row of shoes. You'll find the laborers and working men of all sorts wear shoes that show no signs of care since they came from the factory. The heavy brogans that once were black have become the color of natural leather; you can see where shoes that have been wet have warped, lost all shape and are ready to crack; and those that haven't been wet are just drying up as the life of the leather oozes out. I tell you, if the workmen cared for their shoes properly the shoe business wouldn't be what it is now. I am not talking about 'shine,' and I haven't any special brand of blacking to sell. It's all the leather needs, and it isn't oil that makes shoes shine. When the farmers used to wear cowhide boots—before they plowed and milked by machinery—they used to take care of them by keeping them greased with tallow, and the country store didn't sell more than one pair of shoes a year to a man. But the men who do the heavy work now are not so wise, and the shoe trade takes toll of their ignorance.

Golden Matrimonial Age.
An interesting and unusual estimate of the proper age for matrimony is that advanced by Mrs. Vivian, head and founder of the National Society of the Daughters of California. The happiest and most successful marriages, she says, are those between the man of 50 and the woman of 35. At that age of discretion, she claims, the male has become more mellow and tolerant as well as more solvent. On the other hand she intimates that a girl of 20 is much harder to get along with than to get along without, and that there ought to be laws prohibiting people marrying before they are 30 years old. When Mrs. Vivian's theory gets into working order the bachelor entering the bald, corpulent age of 50 may as well leave hope behind. If Dr. Osler doesn't get him the Daughters of California will.—Success.

Irresistible Impulse.
"I keep myself to myself," confided an old resident. "You modern young men are too much on the 'half-fellow-well-met' order. I boast of the fact that I did not speak to my next-door neighbor for ten years."
"How did you come to speak to him even then, sir?" we asked. "It must have been an extraordinary occasion."
"It was. The young jackanapes bought a new automobile."
"And you wanted a ride?"
"Sir! I am no grafter. Nor would I ride in one of the things for any consideration. No, sir. But the machine was new to him, and I couldn't resist the temptation to go over and give him some advice about running it."—Boston Traveler.

Queen Alexandra's "Home."
Queen Alexandra's favorite room is her boudoir at Sandringham. There she follows her own tastes without court dictation, and she affectionately talks of her boudoir as "home." The walls are in apple green and white, and the furniture is of the Marie Antoinette style. There is bric-a-brac collected by the queen herself from all corners of Europe. Everything in the room is of her personal selection. She passes most of her leisure time there, usually alone or with a confidante. Tea is always served at five o'clock in the boudoir, the queen herself pouring out the tea for her women guests.

HIS HOGS HAVE NO CHOLERA

MISSOURI FARMER RIDES ENTIRE NEIGHBORHOOD OF SCOURGE.

Has Treated Over Ten Thousand Animals, With a Loss of Only Three Per Cent.

Hardin, Mo., Nov. 27.—How R. S. Rust, a farmer eight miles north of this town, drove hog cholera from his herd of a thousand hogs and rid the neighborhood of the scourge, is a story that is attracting a lot of attention among the farmers in this section. Mr. Rust believes he has made a contribution to the hog cholera problem that is of peculiar value right at this time, when the disease is so widespread that the farmers are rushing their hogs to the packing centers before they are in marketable condition in order to escape the disease.

Mr. Rust accomplished his results with the hog cholera serum as developed by the government and as now being made by the agricultural colleges, except that he discarded entirely the serum treatment alone. He gives the hogs what is known as the simultaneous treatment.

Let me explain the difference," said Mr. Rust. "The serum treatment consists simply in injecting into a hog the blood of another hog which has been made absolutely immune from cholera. The simultaneous treatment consists of injecting this same serum into the well hog and at the same time injecting a small quantity of real cholera blood, taken from a hog that had the cholera when the blood was drawn. The cholera blood gives the well hog the cholera while the serum furnishes the fighting element that overcomes the disease. This immunizes the hog as long as it lives.

"In the last eight months I have given the simultaneous treatment to more than 10,000 hogs. My losses will not amount to more than 3 per cent. Indeed, I do not believe they amount to that much."

Mr. Rust has a farm of 1,300 acres. He farms 900 acres and has tenants on the remainder. He has been on this farm about 25 years.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF GOVERNOR

Device Containing Powder, and a Match Mailed to Residence of Pennsylvania Executive.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 27.—What is believed to have been an attempt to injure Gov. John K. Tener, of if not that, a practical joke that might have been serious, was discovered at Charleroi, Pa., the home of the governor.

An ingeniously contrived device, containing powder, a match, piece of steel, a bullet shaped piece of lead and a small sheet of paper inscribed "Drive the Republican bosses out," is in the hands of the United States postal authorities. A rigid investigation is now under way.

The mail package was turned over to Inspector Williams. He saturated the contrivance with water, and after waiting some time opened it with a penknife. The outer cover was labeled with a printed slip reading: "Memorial to state's heroes dedicated."

Inside was found powder, mixed with a substance as yet unidentified. In the middle of the cylindrical shaped package was a match, while in one end there was a piece of steel, regularly bent, which, when removed, would have a tendency to light the match. A bullet shaped piece of lead of about 22-caliber size also was found.

ROCK ISLAND TROUBLE AVERTED

Settlement Made Avoids Strike Contemplated Affecting Eight Thousand Men.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The settlement agreed upon by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway and its shopmen averts a strike which would have affected 8,000 men. The shopmen after five months of negotiation, in which concessions were made on both sides, have accepted the company's wage scale and signed a contract for another year.

The original 34 demands were reduced to six, including an advance of two cents an hour in wages and a change in working conditions. The railroad officials refused these demands, declaring that general business conditions did not warrant any increase in operating expenses. After full consideration, the union officials sent a letter to President Mudge accepting the terms.

Again Heads A. F. of L.
Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 27.—Re-electing Samuel Gompers president by acclamation and choosing Rochester, N. Y. as the next meeting place, the American Federation of Labor convention closed amid scenes of great enthusiasm. Gompers wept with joy at the tremendous demonstration in his honor which ended peacefully the busy scenes of the last two weeks in which he faced criticism, and came out triumphantly.

Now Mr. Hilles Says No.
Washington, Nov. 27.—Positive denial was issued by Secretary Hilles at the White House to a story to the effect that President Taft had "met the challenge of the progressives" and would "urge a Presidential primary in Ohio."
